VOLUME CVIII.--NO. 226. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 23, 1907. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Do You Think For Yourself?

Or, do you open your mouth like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you?

If you are an intelligent thinking woman, in need of relief from weakness, nervousness, pain and suffering, then it means much to you that there is one tried and true honest medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, sold by druggists for the cure of woman's ills.

The makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of weak, nervous, run-down, over-worked, debilitated, pain-racked women, knowing this medicine to be made up of ingredients, every one of which has the strongest possible indorsement of the leading and standard authorities of the several schools of practice, are perfectly willing, and in fact, are only too glad to print, as they do, the formula, or list of ingredients, of which it is composed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper.

The formula of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will bear the most critical examination of medical experts, for it contains no alcohol, narcotics, harmful, or habit-forming drugs, and no agent enters into it that is not highly recommended by the most advanced and leading medical teachers and authorities of their several schools of practice. These authorities recommend the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of exactly the same ailments for which this world-famed medicine is advised.

No other medicine for woman's ills has any such professional endorsement as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received, in the unqualified recommendation of each of its several ingredients by scores of leading medical men of all the schools of practice. Is such an endorsement not worthy of your consideration?

A booklet of ingredients, with numerous authorative profesional endorsements by the leading medical authorities of this country, will be mailed free to any one sending name and address with request for same. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the Heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing Hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong Hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves — re-establish them as needed, with

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

The New York police are again confronted with a murder mystery in the Italian quarter. This last murder is a most atrocious one and was committed in the Little Italy section—the lower East Side of Harlem. The victim was Epifanio Argona. He was slain in his tailoring shop at 339 east One Hundred and Seventh street. Argona was hacked to pieces. Nineteen stab wounds were found on his body. A section of his body was cut away in a circle six inches in diameter, and this portion was carried away from the place.

The police are at work on the case, and spent all day yesterday in an effort to locate a woman who had worked in Argona's shop. The police learned that she was married a month ago and that her new husband bore malice toward Argona.

The employers of the place which the police rounded up talked a great deal about the woman and how she was favored by Argona. None could tell where she lived, with the exception of Francisco Spilrof, who came to the station-house of his own accord, and told a lot of things about the woman and Argona. He knew where she lived, so he told the police, he knew her husband and could take the police right to the pair.

Detectives started out with him, and they got about four blocks away from the station when a great change came over Spilrof. He seemed to have been stricken dumb. He did not know anything. He began to feign that he did not understand English, although he had talked in this language with a glib tongue at the station-house. The police tried to coax him out of his trance, but it was of no avail. The police were satisfied that Spilrof had seen someone on the streets and got a sign to keep his mouth shut. When they were convinced that there was no use of trying to get Spilrof to do anything for them, they did what was the natural thing for them to do—they took Mr. Spilrof to the station and locked him up as a suspicious person.

A Humane Appeal.

A humane citizen of Richmond, Ind., Mr. U. D. Williams, 107 West Main St., says: "I appeal to all persons with weak lungs to take Dr. King's New Discovery, the only remedy that has helped me and fully comes up to the proprietor's recommendation." It saves more live than all other throat and lung remedies put together. Used as a cough and cold cure the world over. Cures asthma, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, hoarseness, and phthisic, stops hemorrhage of the lungs and builds them up. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

ALLEGED DYNAMITE PLOT.

Out of the political fight for the position of warden of the State penitentiary at Folsom, Cal., has come the startling story of a desperate convict plot to dynamite the iron gates of the prison and to hold Mrs. Yell, wife of the warden, as a hostage. More startling still is the intimation of Warden Archibald Yell that former Captain of the Guards, R. J. Murphy, was cognizant of the prisoners' conspiracy.

The story of the plot and the charges made by Warden Yell have come to light since it was announced that R. J. Murphy, now postmaster at Folsom, was a candidate for office of prison warden. Yell's term of office will expire on December 1, and at that time the prison directors will appoint a successor.

In telling of the prison break that was planned by the convicts Warden Yell does not directly accuse his former captain of guards. He states that dynamite was found in a storeroom over which Murphy had charge. He further avers that three convicts confessed to the plot, and says that as a result of his investigation he dismissed Captain Murphy from the guarding force. He adds that Murphy's aspirations for a wardenship prompted him to attempt to discredit his administration.

BIRTHDAY OF KING OF SIAM.

King Chualonkkorn, of Siam, on Saturday invited all Homburg to join him in celebrating his birthday. Champagne and red and white wines of other descriptions were served at the Kurhaus without any limit, it being arranged by the chief minister of the visiting king that each person who paid a trifling fee should become temporarily a member of the Kurhaus and be entitled to three bottles of wine, one each of champagne and white and red wine, while in the grounds of the Kurhaus three pavilions were erected where free beer was distributed to all comers.

The king decreed that this celebration should continue at his expense for three days. He is also distributing large sums of money to the poor, through the local benevolent societies and the city authorities, and at night he gave a banquet to six hundred persons.

The daily outlay of King Chaulalongkorn in normal times, while traveling, is about $3,000 for the hotel bill of himself and his suite. It is presumed that the celebration of his birthday will cost $250,000, as the managers of the Kurhaus have been hastily gathering in wine by the carload from neighboring cities. It is estimated that the king of Siam has already spent $1,500,000 in Germany alone.

WANTS RICH TO HAVE LARGE FAMILIES.

Clad in a flowing gown, Mrs. Annie Besant, president of the Theosophical Society, arrived at Boston from Chicago Saturday in company with Mrs. J. P. Farley, of Brookline. In an interview she was asked if she approved of President Roosevelt's ideas of race suicide. She said: "Yes, I do. I think it is a fatal mistake to restrict the output of humanity to any extent. I still adhere to my views, however, regarding the poorer classes. I think there should be a restriction among the poorer classes for economic and educational reasons."

She said she approved of large families among the wealthy. When asked if the soul of Madame Blavatsky had been transferred to her Mrs. Besant said that it had, but declined to say with whom she had associated in her past existence.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23, 1907

TWO ITEMS of news from the expiring Peace Congress at The Hague have excited a sort of sardonic hilarity not only in this country, but abroad. As heretofore stated, that congress has resolved that another ought to be called in a specified time, and the members of the congress are to be decorated with honors, including the president, M Nelidoff. There are few things in opera bouffe so exquisitely funny as these. Why another congress should be called, except to give temporary employment to threadbare diplomatists, it is difficult to divine. This Hague assemblage has done absolutely nothing for peace, and has thereby brought the movement into contempt, as far as officialdom is concerned. There is no reason to suppose that a body similarly constituted would do any better. The governments of the world simply do not want any regulation which will curtail the power of going to war, or make it less barbarous when it occurs. This was strongly illustrated in the manner of handling the question of explosive mines. It would have been possible at least to making a regulation holding any belligerant reponsible for the havoc to neutral commerce caused by floating mines. But not a thing was done. The congress was as impotent in handling this matter as in its attempt to adjust others. Why the members should be decorated, except to distinguish them as targets for scorn to paint its slow and moving finger at, is not understood here. Foreign delegates to the conference blame the failure to reach results to the lack of preparation by the countries interested, particularly the United States, claiming that the American delegation was not in complete accord with the Latin-American countries.

FATHER VAUGHAN, brother of the late Cardinal, who has been preaching against the "sins of society" in London, addressed a fashionable audience at the Mansion House in Dublin the other evening. Among other things, he told the story of a dream that he had on the night of his arrival in Dublin. He fancied that he saw a well-known gambler pacing to and fro in single loneliness in one of the outer courts of heaven. When he could stand his solitude no longer the gambler approached St. Peter and confessed that he had secured passage to heaven by cheating, and begged for permission to descend to the infernal regions to see what his former friends were doing down there. St. Peter consented and furnished him with a return ticket. In the inferno he found an enormous crowd of fashionable men and women, all being forced to play bridge without stakes. He watched the play with mingled feelings, until, overcome by his former passion, he drew forth his return ticket to heaven and staked it, and lost. A society woman secured it, and, clutching it tightly, she at once made her way to the gate, where Satan congratulated her upon her success, but pointed with a smile to a legend on the ticket, "Positively not transferable." Thereupon she screamed and tore the ticket to shreds, and the devil led her back to resume her everlasting play in the infernal drawing-room, over the portal of which was written, "All hope abandon, ye who enter here." His dream should be a warning to the many who neglect all for "bridge."

KISSES at charity fairs where they are dispensed by stage beauties often cost more than they are worth, but Skowhegan, Maine, has the first case on record of a man getting one worth $3,000 for a cent. The lucky man is F. H. Soule. At a fair he bought a kiss of the crusted sugar variety, and when he bit into it his teeth closed on a diamond valued at $3,000. The kiss was made in Boston, but how the diamond got in is a mystery. There will doubtless be a boom in the sugarkiss market of Skowhegan.

SPEAKING at the Jamestown Exposition on Missouri day Governor Folk said the tariff was a moral question. "A tariff deliberately designed to create monopoly and to give a few people the right to prey upon the rest of the people is prohibited by the moral law." If one needed any proof of this it would be found in the growth of political corruption under a high tariff regime. There can be no general reform of politics until taxation shall be restricted to public purposes.

From Washington.

Washington, Sept. 23.

Reports of a concerted anti-Taft-Roosevelt movement on the part of the negroes of the country are causing some alarm among the supporters of the Ohio candidate in this city. Mass meetings held recently in the large centers of the country have, it is said, developed into a permanent organization among the blacks Ultimately it is to spread to all parts, say the promoters. Organizations have already been secretly formed in Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. The leader of the movement is W. Calvin Chase, prominent among the negroes as a lawyer, and editor of the colored republican newspaper in Washington.

Formal invitations of the Central American Republics, signed by President Diaz, of Mexico, and President Roosevelt to meet in Washington for a peace conference, were sent out today. The invitations follow the lines of the protocol negotiated here last week. The date of the meeting is left indefinite between November 1 and 15 in order to suit the convenience of the delegates.

Captain Munger, in command of the fleet of revenue cutters in Alaskan waters, wired the Treasury Department today that he had rescued 243 survivors of the ship "John Currier," wrecked August 9. They were at Nelsons lagoon on the barren Unimak Island, one of the Aleutian group, and had only a month's provisions. The cutter Thetis is taking them to Seattle. The revenue cutter service has been searching for the missing ship for over a week. There are no advices as to the character of the vessel, but it is assumed that the people belonged to the salmon fishing and canning industry.

General Ceicil Clay, of Pennsylvania, general agent of the Department of Justice and father of John Ceicil Clay, the New York artist, died here today, aged 64.

After years of haggling over the question of whether militiamen, employed in the postal service, should respond to calls for emergency duties in the national guard, postmaster General Meyers today removed all doubts and misconceptions by ordering postmasters to grant such leave to employees.

"Us for the simple life" is the slogan of half a hundred striking telegraph operators who are without families to support. Tonight they will begin camp life on the Potomac river four miles above Cabin John Bridge. The local union has purchased tents and provisions and the strikers are to camp out until they are called back to civilization and work. This plan was decided upon in order to save expenses. W. W. Beattie, international vice president of the telegraphers, today renewed his prediction that the strike will soon be over.

ECHO OF LOVING CASE.

The chances are good that there will be a bitterly-fought battle in politics all along the line in Nelson county this fall. It is said that all officials in that county will have opposition for re-election.

This includes Sheriff M. K Estes, whose son Theodore was recently shot and killed by ex-Judge William G. Loving because of alleged mistreatment of his young daughter, Elizabeth, and who took an active interest in the senatorial contest recently fought ont in the Nineteenth district.

S. B. Whitehead, Commonwealth's Attorney, who led the forces for the prosecution in the case against Judge Loving before the case was removed from Nelson county to Halifax, was appointed to office by Judge Bennett T. Gordon when Judge Gordon himself vacated that office for the purpose of going upon the bench. Whitehead now, for the first time, comes before the people as a candidate.

The shooting of Estes by Judge Loving played an important part in the recent senatorial fight in Nelson, in which W. K. Allen defeated State Senator Aubrey E. Strode in that county by twenty-three votes. Most of the officers who are now asking for re-election were identified with the prosecution of Judge Loving, and were active supporters of Allen.

Who the candidates against Estes and Whitehead will be is not yet known.

ALDERMAN MOBBED.

The people of Whiting, Ind., know how to "influence" the city fathers when they persist in giving away valuable franchises. Five hundred citizens marched to the city council chamber Saturday as a franchise was about to be granted to a street railway.

One man mounted the president's platform, usurping the chair and gavel. Two prominent business men, in fiery speeches, denounced the franchise. Then the franchise was put to a vote of the citizens' assembly and defeated unanimously. Alderman Long and Alderman Schultz attempted to speak, but were hissed to silence. An inkwell hurled through the air and broke on Alderman Long's head.

He and Alderman Schultz and Kozacik were then dragged to the front of the chamber, arraigned like prisoners and asked how they stood on the franchise. Kozacik weakened and declared he would vote against it. Long and Schultz said they would vote for it. Thereupon the citizens crowded close about the two aldermen and grew threatening. A general attack followed. Long edged away through the throng and escaped. Schultz was unmercifully pummelled. The police came, but the aldermen had taken to the sand dunes.

BRIDEGROOM MURDERED.

While the body of Homer Casey lies in his home at Ragelsville, Ind., Miss Anna Stone, daughter of Peter M. Stone, of Bloomfield, one of Greene county's wealthiest citizens, who was to have married him yesterday has collapsed under the shock of the tragedy. Casey went to Bloomfield Saturday to secure the marriage license. The Stone home was filled with happy guests. The hour set for the ceremony came and passed and when the bridegroom failed to appear an inquiry was begun. A telegram to Ragelsville brought the information that Casey's dead body had been found with a bullet hole through the head at his home. It is believed that he was murdered early Saturday evening. Complete mystery surrounds the crime. Casey was a prosperous young merchant, and is not known to have had any enemies. His friends fear that some jealous rival waylaid and killed him. Others believe that he was murdered by highwaymen.

News of the Day.

More than 4,500 cases of cholera have been reported in Russia.

Russia's grain crop is short 200,000,000 bushels of the average.

Ex-President Cleveland has improved so much in health that he has resumed work.

Over 177,000 British and Irish emigrants came to the United States and Canada the past year.

H. H. Rogers, his New York friends declare, is likely to return to his office soon and again take up active control of his affairs.

Prof. Wilbur O. Atwater, noted for years as professor of chemistry at Wesleyan College, at Middletown, Conn., died today.

An attempt to rescue Frank Constantine, the murderer of Mrs. Gentry, from the Chicago jail failed yesterday though two other prisoners made their escape.

Confessing that she fears she will not survive her present illness, Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, widow of the Chicago millionaire, has sent messages from Paris urging her children to hurry to her bedside.

Ellis Island officials today received word from Washington that the Department of Commerce and Labor has decided that Paula Klippenburg, the young Viennese actress, recently held up as an undesirable citizen shall be deported.

Robert Peters, of Brooklyn, and Geo. Taylor, of England, were sentenced to serve seven years in Auburn prison, at Buffalo, N. Y., today. They tortured Fred Smith by hammering his toes until the nails dropped off in an effort to force him to tell where his employer's money was hidden.

Several tons of chocolate were consumed by fire yesterday in the chocolate and cocoa mills of William H. Baker, on the fifth and sixth floors of a large six-story brick factory building at Williamsburg, New York. The blaze is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion among cocoa beans.

On a dead track and amid the coming cheers of 20,000 persons, James R. Keene's Ballot, second choice in the betting, won the First Special, one mile and a quarter, at Gravesend, New York, Saturday. Electioneer was second, with Salvidere third. The time, 2:07, was good considering the track conditions.

Gov. Comer, of Alabama, has issued a call for an extra session of the legislature to pass legislation which will force those railroads which have not adopted the 2 1-2 cent passenger rate and the reduced freight rate to do so, and, likewise, to so frame this legislation that Federal courts cannot interfere with its enforcement.

Skylarking in a rowboat, in which were five young people of a party of sixty-three couples on an outing on the shore of Bear creek, near Baltimore, yesterday, resulted in the upsetting of the frail craft and the drowning of Myrtle Lee, aged fifteen years, and Herman Behnke, aged seventeen years. Three others, Miss Ida Lebrun, Henry Wisener, and Henry Streckfus, were rescued with difficulty.

A dozen determined masked men took Mose Dossett, colored, from two deputy sheriffs yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, three miles from Mobile, and hanged him to a tree. The crime for which Dossett was lynched was an attempted assault upon Mrs. J. Beeder, a widow. It is said that the negro, after the rope had been placed around his neck, confessed the assault. Dossett was positively identified by Mrs. Beeder.

A windstorm of cyclonic force, accompanied by sharp lighting, visited Schuylkill county, Pa., Saturday afternoon, with the result that seven persons were fatally and seven seriously hurt and fifty others were severely injured by the falling of a grandstand at Hegins, near Pottsville. Almost simultaneously three persons were fatally hurt in Pottsville, lightning striking them and burning the hair from their heads. The bolt knocked twelve others unconscious.

Right Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, the venerable bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Rochester, N. Y., made the startling declaration yesterday before a vast crowd gathered to witness the ceremony of blessing the graves, that an attempt had been made by the Italian Black Hand Society to extort money from him, and that he was informed that four of the gang were under oath to kill him. Bishop McQuaid has been bishop of the diocese of Rochester for nearly forty years.

Because business men of Helena, Mont., refused to discontinue the use of telephones pending a settlement of the Rock Mountain Bell Telephone Company's strike, the Helena Trades and Labor Assembly has decided to call a general strike in Helena today. The result of this action, it is said, will be a complete tie-up of street-car service and the closing of hotels, manufacturing establishments, business houses and even saloons where the use of telephones has not been discontinued.

With his wife afraid to disarm him for fear he would turn the weapon against her, W. S. Unglaub, a railroad fireman, committed suicide at his home in Washington, shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning by shooting himself through the heart. Unglaub was despondent over his continued ill health and feared that he would never again be able to engage in any active work. For several years Unglaub had been employed as a fireman on different branches of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, of Pittsburg, has refused an offer of $1,000 a week for the remainder of her life to withdraw all suits which are pending against her husband, Augustus Hartje, and others in connection with the recent sensational divorce case. She demands that the suits be settled and that she is be vindicated and cleared of the charges that have been made against her. The two Hartje children will be placed in a school until they are of age, and then they will decide for themselves whether they will go to their father or their mother.

Samuel Sloan, chairman of the board of directors of the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad, and for many years the president of the road, died yesterday morning in his country home, at Garrison-on-the-Hudson. Mr. Sloan was within two months of being 90 years old. Mr. Sloan was conspicuous in the group of great railroad executives and financiers of the past 50 years. He went to work to earn a living before he was 16 years old, and he kept hard at it for nearly three-quarters of a century. He was successively office boy, clerk, merchant, legislator, financier and railroad ruler.

Virginia News.

Walter H. Hirst, of Purcellville, formerly a merchant of that place, died Thursday night from typhoid fever, aged 45 years.

Miss Lillian H. Birdsall, daughter of David H. Birdsall, and Edwin M. Brown were married Friday at the bride's home, near Purcellville, Loudoun county. The ceremony was performed according to the rites of the Society of Friends. The bride was attended by Misses Gertrude Birdsall and Emma Brown, and the groom by Messrs. Wm. Francis, H. B. Taylor and Scott Gillingham. They will reside near Lincoln.

J. W. Arebaugh and T. C. Gibson, express managers, charged with stealing packages from the Southern Express Co., were each sentenced on Saturday to one year in jail at Richmond. Their rooms were searched and goods to the value of many thousands of dollars were found. They were turned over to the express company. Shumate, the man arrested in Staunton, was also arraigned as a party to the robbery, but his case was continued to today in order to allow his counsel to appear.

TRAIN WRECKED.

A passenger train of the Southern Railway was derailed and wrecked near Ryan's Siding, Va., shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday morning. A number of passengers were slightly injured, but no one was killed.

The scene of the accident is about 30 miles south of Charlottesville, and is a small way station. The train was the northbound Chattanooga and Washington limited. Besides the engine and tender it consisted of a baggage car, an express car, a day coach and three sleepers. The sleepers were destroyed by fire.

After the accident the excitement was great. Women and children, nearly all of whom were almost scared out of their wits, screamed and yelled at the top of their voices, and the noise was intense. Very soon the calmer ones among the passengers managed to get the frightened persons quiet, and an effort was made to bring about order. In a few minutes after the sleepers turned over it was seen that nothing could prevent them from catching fire from the gas tanks. Hurried trips were made by the men inside the cars and the belongings of the passengers were quickly removed, and after their clothes had been gotten out the travelers hurriedly dressed for the day.

Most of those injured were cut by the glass in the windows, which was broken when the cars were turned over, or, as was the case with a great many, were broken so the passengers could climb out. The women and children went to the houses nearby, where they were taken care of until relief trains arrived from Charlottesville.

Although the sleepers were so badly burned that they will never be repaired, the day coach, the express and the baggage cars were saved.

The wrecked train is the fastest on the Southern Railway between Lynchburg and Washington and its run is between Chattanoogo, Tenn., and the national capital. West of Lynchburg it is run over the tracks of the Norfolk and Western. All of the local trains on the Washington Division of the Southern were abandoned after the wreck, and all through trains were sent around by way of Buena Vista and Basic City to Charlotteville. The work of clearing the track was very much handicapped by the narrowness of the cut in which the wreck occurred. The fire at the wreck was put out with some hose and apparatus sent from Lynchburg on a special train.

Between 35 and 40 persons received slight injuries, among whom were Conductor G. E. Smith, who had his back strained and one of his hands cut; Baggagemaster B. F. Turner, who lives in this city, suffered an abrasion of the left forearm, contusion of left shoulder and sprain of back of neck. B. B. Irby, of Roanoke, who was on his way to Alexandria, contusion of left side chest, slight.

Engineer S. J. Irby, of this city, was in charge of the locomotive of the train, and he and Fireman Braxton escaped injury. The engine passed over the broken rail, which caused the accident, but the tender was thrown from the track.

KILLED BY CARS.

Albert Morris, a well-known citizen of Richmond, 55 years of age, was instantly killed by a street car Saturday night while crossing Broad street at Second. Mr. Morris attempted to cross Broad street in front of car 331 of the Broad and Main street line and was knocked down, breaking two of his limbs and crushing his skull. The motorman stopped his car, which was packed with shoppers returning home, and the car had to be jacked up, as the body was tangled in the wheels. The conductor and motorman were placed under arrest. Morris had been a resident of Richmond all his life, and leaves a widow and several children. He was for a number of years in charge of the paving department of the city, and possibly has laid more pavement than any man in the State.

Run down and so badly mangled by a trolley car that identification was impossible, the body of a well-dressed white man was taken from Tanners creek near Norfolk, by the crew of an Old Point express, which struck him on the bridge. The high speed car had signaled the draw bridge as usual when the figure of a man was seen climbing up the trestle work. The motorman blew his whistle frantically and put on the emergency brake, but the momentum of the car was too great to be checked in time and the man, who was either intoxicated or who was bent on suicide, paid no attention to the warning and continued to crawl on the trestle. He was crushed and thrown into the river. All that could be found on the track was a felt hat and a pool of blood. Later the body was recovered.

LEITER TO M B HARLOW

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: Two cans of paint look alike; two paints look alike, when opened; two jobs look alike, so long as they're new—unless one is spent.

They are far from alike; one is paint and the other is trash.

The gallon price is not far from alike. They don't cost alike. One takes 10 gallons to paint a house; the other takes 20. The cost of one job is $50; the other $100—it may be $90—the job that cost least is the good one; wears twice as long as the other.

There are two ways of telling good paint; by the name; by the number of gallons it takes for a job—least gallons, best paint. By the name Devoe; by least gallons.

Yours truly,

53 F W DEVOE & Co.

Investigating Standard Oil.

New York, Sept. 23.—Special Attorney General Kellogg, who is probing the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in the government's suit to have that corporation declared guilty of violating the anti-trust laws and dissolved, assailed Wesley H. Tilford, treasurer of the concern, immediately with what has been brought out relative to the sale by Commodore E. C. Benedict and Anthony N. Brady of the Manhattan Oil Company, which was disposed of to a British syndicate. He wants to prove it really went to the Standard, and demanded that Tilford tell him why the Standard gave the Chicago Gas Company, then controlled by Brady and Benedict, a lucerative contract to furnish it supplies. "Don't you know that the contract was the consideration for the sale of the Manhattan Company?" demanded Kellogg. "No." "You swore it was not?" shouted Kellogg, raising his voice for the first time the inquiry opened. "I swear I don't know it," was the reply. To a volley of questions that popped with the rapidity of a rapid fire gun, Kellogg developed the fact that Tilford signed a contract and was closely connected with all the companies involved. But he still insisted that he did not know anything about it, and was ordered to find the contract and produce it, as a similar one made at the same time with the Indianapolis gas company.

When Tilford was asked about the absorption of Schofied, Seburme and Teagle, of Cleveland, O., he declared the Standard simply had to take them in. They were so anxious to be absorbed, he swore, that they made numerous offers to sell and finally their request "just had to be acceded to."

So soon as Tilford was turned over to John G. Milburn, of counsel for the Standard, the latter showed by his line of questioning that the company would plead justification for most of its acts and would utterly deny any wrong doing. Tilford declared the reason the supply of crude oil was shut off to sixteen independent companies after they had refused to sign the Standard's agreement was the failing of the natural supply from the wells.

The examination of Treasurer Tilford was completed just before the noon recess.

An official statement made today by the Standard Oil Company says: "We also propose to issue periodical statements of earnings, operations, etc. We propose to give the representatives of the government everything in the way of information that it calls for, which is all we can do.

Alleged Plot to Free Prisoner.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Judge Kavanaugh has been informed by the police that his court room would probably have been turned into the scene of a desperate attempt by secret society members to rescue Frank J. Constantine, had the verdict against the latter been death. Constantine was found guilty at midnight Sunday of having murdered Mrs. Louise Gentry, a gifted young artist, who received him at her home as a boarder because of her sympathy with Italian artists, and sentenced to life imprisonment. Prior to his conviction the police received information of a plot by the society to surround Constantine and battle with the baliffs to deliver him from the law's clutches in case a sentence of death was carried by the verdict.

Preparing to Leave for Washington.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Books, papers, office records and typewriters are being packed at the executive offices, over Moore's provison store, in preparation for the President's removal to Washington on Wednesday. By tomorrow everything that is to be taken to the White House will be stored away in the baggage cars The cars bearing the effects will leave Oyster Bay at 9 a. m. Wednesday, an hour ahead of the presidential party. Secretary Loeb has not yet made public the exact location in Louisiana where the President expects to pitch his tent and hunt bears and boars. If it were possible the location would be kept a scret until the President lands there.

Conditions in Morocco.

Tangier, Morroco, Sept. 23.—The Sultan has succeeded in reaching Rabatt in safety with his army. The claimant for the throne, Mauley Hafid, is reported to have left Marakesh with 6,000 men, but whether he is to attack the Sultan's forces or the French is unknown.

Paris, Sept. 23.—It is officially announced that three of the rebel Moroccan tribes, the Zenatis, Ouladzoyans and Zyadaess have asked that the negotiations for peace be renewed. General Drude has consented but declines to suspend military operations until a successful agreement is reached.

Bartender Killed.

New York, Sept. 23.—Blackmailers who were driven from a saloon early today shot and killed James Bondros, the bartender, as they left the place. Charles Bondros, proprietor of the saloon and brother of the murdered man, served notice on a band of blackmailers that they would have to leave. "The gang is going to get you," said one of the men as he passed through the swinging doors. When James Bondros started out of the saloon twelve shots were fired, one of which killed Bondros.

Grocery Store Destroyed.

New York, Sept. 23.—Fire today gutted the seven story wholesale grocery establishment of Louis de Graff & Son at 73 and 75 Beach street and extending to 386 and 388 Washington street and caused a loss of $250,000. Twelve employes of the concern, headed by Foreman Dixon, were caught by a back draught on the fifth floor and blown down a flight of stairs. All were badly shaken up and bruised.

The Third Douma.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—First returns received today from the elections for the third Douma indicate a sweeping victory for the radicals. It is expected that the complete results will show that the radicals will have a controlling power, and there is every indication that the new Douma will be even more irreconcilable to the government than the last.

Seven Men Drowned.

Grand Marias, Mich., Sept. 23.—The tug Boynton today brought the eleven survivors of the steamer Alexander Nimick into port. Captain John Randall, first mate James Bliss, steward Thomas Parent and four members of the crew were lost with the ship. The steamer was wrecked during a gale.

Eight Persons Shot.

Lodz, Poland, Sept. 23.—Military today shot and killed seven men and one woman, convicted at Drumhead court martial of killing Marcus Silberstein, a mill owner, for whom they worked.

Treaty Ratified.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—The British Russian treaty defining the rights and interests of Russia and Great Britain in Tibett, and Persia was ratified at the foreign office today.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Sept. 23.—Selling in a number of securities caused the room to turn the bear side and supply stocks freely on the downward movement, causing losses ranging from fractions to over 2 points. New York 4 1-2 declined to 106 1-2 against 107 3-4, the high point. Commission houses did practically nothing. Railroad and other bonds quiet. After the first hour the market became a little steadier on covering of shorts by room traders and recovered part of its early losses.

ROBERT E. WITHERS DEAD.

Former United States Senator from Virginia Robert E. Withers died Saturday night at his home at Wytheville. He was born at Rock Castle, Campbell county, Virginia, September 18, 1821. During the war he served as colonel of the Eighteenth Virginia regiment in the Confederate army and was badly wounded. He was nominated for Governor in 1868, but later he withdrew from the contest in favor of Gilbert C. Walker, who was nominated and elected as a liberal republican, when a new constitution was adopted.

In 1873 he contested with General Kemper the nomination for Governor of the State, but was defeated. He was then offered the second place on the ticket by the unanimous vote of the convention and was induced to accept it. He again actively canvassed the State, and the ticket was elected by a very large majority. As Lieutenant-Governor he presided over the State Senate, and was nominated and elected United States Senator after a long and arduous struggle by the Legislature of Virginia. He took his seat in the U. S. Senate March 4, 1875, and served until 1881, being succeeded by General Mahone, who was the head of the readjuster party of the State.

In 1884, under the Cleveland administration, he was offered and accepted the place as consul to Hongkong, where he served four years.

Colonel Withers was fond of Masonry and devoted much time and attention to the order, having successfully filled all the offices of the blue lodge, chapter and commandery of the State organization, as well as the grand encampment Knights Templar of the United States, having been chosen grand commander of that order in San Francisco in 1883. He had also taken all the degrees in the Scottish Rite up to and including the thirty second degree.

He had for many years been prominently identified with the Episcopal Church, and as vestryman, delegate to the diocesan councils and lay deputy to the general conventions, had served his church with acceptability and distinction. During his senatorial term Senator Withers lived in Alexandria where he made many friends. His funeral took place at Wytheville this evening.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

After firing three shots at his brother, George R. Kendrick, of Fourth and K streets southeast, Washington, an employe of the Government Printing Office, one of which took effect just below the heart, William Kendrick, of 415 L street southeast, on Saturday night attempted to kill the wounded man's wife and her daughter Olive. He fired two shots at Mrs Kendrick and one at the daughter, neither of which to effect. When arrested a short time later by Lieut. Anderson, of the Fifth precinct, Kendrick attempted to kill the lieutenant with an axe. The wounded man is at Casualty Hospital in a critical condition. The bullet entered between the sixth and seventh ribs, lodging in the muscles of the back. The physicians hold out little hope for his recovery. Kendrick refused to discuss the case with the police, other than to admit that he did the shooting.

In an attempt to escape her uncle when he had forced his way into the house later with an axe, Miss Olive leaped from the second-story window to the roof of a porch constructed about the front of the house, and slid down a pillar to the ground, making her escape up a side alley.

Members of the Kendrick family say they know of no motive that could have prompted the man to commit such an act. He appeared at their house Saturday afternoon, they say, and threatened to kill the family outright. He was put out of the house, the police say, and nothing was heard of him until he appeared there again at night. He had been drinking heaviily, the police say. He is employed at the navy yard as a machinist, but had not worked for several days. He is single and lives alone.

The wounded man conducts a small grocery store at K and Fourth streets. He is forty-two years old and has a large family.

Former President Grover Cleveland, it is stated, is responding nicely to the new treatment decided on at the recent conference of physicians.

The broken main in the Shenandoah river which deprived Berryville of water has been repaired.

MISS LEE'S WEDDING.

Miss Virginia Lee, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Bernard Fowle Lee and the late Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, will be married Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Christ Church to Lieut. John Carter Montgomery, 7th Cavalry, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery, of Elizabethtown, Ky. The marriage license was issued today. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. William J. Morton, rector of the church. Miss Lee will enter the church with and be given in marriage by her brother, Capt. Fitzhugh Lee, of the 7th Cavalry. Owing to the fact that both families are in semi-mourning the invitations are limited to relatives and intimate friends. The bridal gown is to be of white embroidered pina cloth, brought from the Philippines, made with an accordion-plaited train and trimmed with white sweet peas. A coronet of white sweet peas will hold in place the wedding veil, and the bride will carry a shower of the same flowers. The maid of honor, Miss Louise Jones, of Norfolk, will be gowned in cavalry yellow chiffon over taffeta of the same color. The bridesmaids will be Miss Mary Newton Williams and Miss Mildred Woodward, of Richmond; Miss Julia Downer, of Norfolk; Miss Marguerite Pattison, of Baltimore; Miss Virginia Beall Daingerfield and Miss Geraldine Taylor, of this city. They will be gowned in white silk mull trimmed with yellow ribbon and yellow empire girdles. They will wear wreaths of yellow roses in their hair. The maid of honor and bridesmaids will all carry bouquets of golden rod. The church will be decorated with palms and golden rod. Lieut. Montgomery will, like his best man and ushers, wear the full uniform of his rank. The men of the wedding party will all be brother officers of the groom.

Following the ceremony a small reception for the bridal party and immediate family will be held at the residence of Mrs. William Greene, 317 north Washington street. The bride's going-away gown is of dark blue cloth with hat to match. After a short wedding trip Lieut. Montgomery will take his bride to Fort Riley, Kan., where he is stationed now.

MOORE'S BOAT WINS.

The race Saturday evening between motor boats owned by Messrs. W. E. Moore and others and R. Bruce Emerson resulted in a victory for the former in a six mile race by 0:42 2-5. The finish was off the Prince street wharf, and was witnessed by a large crowd of people estimated at fully 1,500 people. At the start, which was made at 3:55:1, the winning boat had one second advantage and kept the lead until the finish. W. F. Hall was the official starter, and with him were Thomas Chauncey, representing Mr. Moore, and A. T. Peake, representing Mr. Emerson. The official judge was William Bryant, and in the judges' boat were J. H. Miller, representing Mr. Emerson and T. F. Kelley, one of the owners of the Moore boat. Mr. Bryant held the stop watch, and his decision was thoroughly satisfactory to both of the contestants. The winning boat was designed by Frank Sanford, and was put overboard by its owners about a year ago. It is about twenty-eight feet ten inches in length, four feet beam, and is impelled by a thirty-four horsepower Bromnell-Trebert gasoline engine. Mr. Emerson's boat is of the gliding type thirty-eight feet long, eight feet in beam, and is equipped with a Fairbanks engine, rated at fifteen to twenty horsepower. The Moore boat was piloted by Joseph Moore, with William E. Moore at the engine, and the crew of the Emerson boat was George Gensmer, pilot, and R. Bruce Emerson, engineer. The purse for the winner was $100.

WOMAN ATTACKS OFFICER.

Taylor Robinson, colored, was arrested Saturday night by Lieutenant Bettis and Officers Gill and Lyles for discharging a gun in the northeastern section of the city. While Robinson was in the custody of the officers a colored woman named Lizzie Shepherd appeared on the scene and asserted that Robinson did not discharge the gun. She was told by the officers to go about her business, but her interference became so annoying that, after repeated warnings, it became necessary to place her under arrest. The woman fought Officer Gill, who had her in charge, clawing at him viciously, and while he was attempting to subdue the negress her dog attacked the officer. The latter succeeded in kicking the canine away, after which Robinson and the woman were taken to the station house and locked up. The prisoners were fined $5 each by Justice Caton this morning.

BETHANY M. P. CHURCH.

The reopening of Bethany M. P. Church yesterday (the congregation of which now has charge of the First Presbyterian Church on south Fairfax street) was interesting throughout and was witnessed by a large concourse of people. Rev. Dr. Joseph L. Mills, of Baltimore, delivered the morning sermon. In the afternoon addresses were delivered by a number of speakers, including Dr. Mills, Rev. W. M. Poisal and Rev. Jos. R. Seview. Rev. Mr. Poisal, the pastor, preached in the evening. Rev. R. S. Lawrenson, pastor of Cherrydale M. P. Church, Alexandria county, sent a letter of regret at not being able to be present. The old church has been handsomely fitted up, and now presents a fine appearance.

BALL GAMES.

The Alexandria Athletic Association baseball team was defeated Saturday afternoon by the Atlantic Athletic Club of Washington, score 3 to 0. The game was played on the old fair grounds, and because of darkness only four innings were played.

In a football game Saturday the Warwick Athletic Club of Washington defeated the Alexandria Athletic Associations Juniors, 10 to 0, on the Southeast play grounds Washington. Chilcott and McBride did well for the Virginians. During the first half Cohill, the Warwick full back, was injured, and was forced to retire.

HEAVY RAINFALL.

The sultry weather of last week was followed yesterday by rain and lower temperaure. There were showers at times during most of the day and night with a continuation of the same today. The rainfall has been very heavy, flooding the streets and choking the sewers. At times the clouds darkened the sky and rendered necessary the use of artificial lights in house. Some of the streets in the extreme western portion of the city were at times covered with water from curb to curb. A colored man named John Buckner attempted to cross at the intersection of King and West streets and was washed from his feet and carried some distance by the raging torrent. The water ran out of the banks of Hooff's run and flooded large areas in that vicinity. Some thunder and lightning accompanied the rainfalls. About 2:30 o'clock clearing conditions followed.

The operation of electric trains between this city and Washington was brought to a temporary standstill early in the afternoon by the heavy rainfalls.

Reports received at the office of the Southern Railway Company in this city up to 2 o'clock this evening were to the effect that the rains have caused high water at various points along the several branches of the road in Virginia, but that no serious damage has so far resulted though there has been some delay in the running of trains.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Peter Stone and John Gallagher, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, forfeited their collateral by failing to appear.

James Lucas, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct, was sent to the chain gang for ten days.

Henry Foster, colored, charged with destroying property and with disorderly conduct, was fined $10.

Taylor Robinson, colored, charged with discharging a gun within the city's limits, was fined $5.

Lizzie Shepherd, colored, charged with interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty, was fined $5.

A white man, charged with assault, was fined $10.

WATER FOR DEL RAY.

A meeting of the board of supervisors of Alexandria county was held Saturday night to discuss a proposition to allow the Alexandria Water Company to enter Del Ray. It was decided to grant the water company permission to lay a temporary four-inch main, with the understanding that connection will be made with the twelve-inch mains in Alexandria within one year from October 1. It was also stipulated that openings for fire plugs must be made at certain points by the water company, and that the privileges extended are not to be prejudicial to similar privileges that may be granted to any other company in the future.

FINED TEN DOLLARS.

Last Sunday a white man living on Jefferson street, went home and threw the dinner pot into the street, and afterwards procured an axe and demolished all the furniture in the house. A colored individual named Henry Foster was animated by the same spirit last night. He went home drunk, and after procuring an axe began to destroy all the household effects of his mother. He was seized by a male member of the family, when the drunken negro attempted to use the axe on him. He was held, however, until the arrival of Officer Garvey, who took the desperado in custody. This morning he was fined $10 by Justice Caton.

ANOTHER FURLOUGH.

About fifty more of the employes in the shops of the Southern Railway in this city were furloughed last week, and those who were not suspended were notified that they would be expected to lose a day and a half each week until further notice. As was stated in the Gazette nearly 50 per cent. of the men in the machine and car repair departments were suspended about ten days ago, and many believe it is the intention of the company to close the shops eventually and have the locomotives of the company housed in Washington, or in the neighborhood of that city.

COLORED MAN MURDERED.

About 4 o'clock yesterday morning in Rosslyn, Alexandria county, William Williamson, colored, about thirty-two years of age, was proceeding to his home, and when just above the Arlington brewery on the road to Fort Myer, a colored man (unknown to Williamson) suddenly sprang from behind a telegraph pole and shot him through the abdomen. Williamson was found by a passerby and later removed to the Georgetown University Hospital, where he died last night. The motive for the murder is unknown.

DEATHS.

Miss Florence Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Wade, died early Saturday night at the residence of her parents, 310 Commerce street, after a brief illness of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Rose F. Bernhardt, formerly of this city, died Saturday night at Providence Hospital. The deceased was the widow of George H. Bernhardt and mother of Engineer Henry Bernhardt, of the Southern Railway, and of Mrs. Julia V. Brown and Mrs. Rose F. Nelson, both of Washington.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

Judge Thornton of the Circuit Court today in vacation heard arguments in the habeas corpus case of Fred. Kaus, jr., vs. Emma Nightingill, in which the former seeks to gain the custody of his child that is now in the possession of its grandmother, Mrs. Nightingill.

After hearing the arguments Judge Thornton entered an order decreeing that the girl remain in the custody of her grandmother and that the father should see his daughter at stated intervals.

Lost and Found.

Lost, between 9:30 p. m., yesterday and noon today, a bilious attack, with nausea and sick headache. This loss was occasioned by finding at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed for billiousness, malaria and jaundice. 25c.

$543.67 worth of Portieres, Couch Covers, and Brocatelle Table Covers damaged by water in transportation. While in New York a few weeks ago I bought for the fall season, Portieres, Couch Covers and Brocatelle Table Covers. Had them shipped as usual by the Pennsylvania Railroad, but in some way they got wet. We reported our claim to the Pennsylvania Railroad, of which Mr. Jas. Peverill is manager of the freight department. The claim has been adjusted to our satisfaction, certainly it was not much, as the damage was very, little and to get them out quick we marked them as follows:

$2.50 Portieres, beautiful colors, marked $2.00.
$4.50 Portieres, at $3.50.
$5.00 Portieres, at $4.00 and etc.
$1.00 Couch Covers, 85c.
$1.25 Couch Covers, $1.00.
$2.00 Couch Covers, $1.50.
$2.50 Couch Covers, $2.00 and etc.
$2 50 8-4 Brocatelle Table Covers, marked $2.
6-4 Brocatelle Table Covers, $1.25 kind $1.00.
4-4 Brocatelle Table Covers, 40c kind 29c.

Alexandria Gazette.

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23, 1907.

A Freshman.

A freshman who had entered one of the large universities and was not much accustomed to the ways either of institutions of learning or of cities was returning late one evening from a lecture. When near his lodgings he was halted by two masked men, who "held him up" in true metropolitan style. One of the men leveled the conventional revolver at the young man, while the other relieved him of his watch, pocketbook and other valuables. He made no mention of the matter to anybody at the time, but a few days later he reported it to the president of the university.

"It wasn't a great deal," he said, "but it was more than I like to lose, and I think it's an outrage to treat a boy that way."

"Why didn't you tell me of this sooner?" asked the president.

"I supposed they would bring the things back to me next morning," he answered. "It was a couple of sophomores hazing me, wasn't it?"—Youth's Companion.

Weary Watches.

"I suppose," said the watchmaker, "you do not know that watches, like human beings, sometimes don't 'go' for the very good reason that they are tired. Sometimes a watch is brought to me which is all right. Nothing about it is out of order, and it is fairly clean. When it becomes sulky and refuses to go except by fits and starts the best thing to do is to lay it aside and give it a rest. The mechanism in a 'tired' watch seems to be in perfect condition, but it won't work. The fact is that long and faithful service has thrown it slightly out of adjustment in perhaps ten different places. Scraping and cleaning and readjusting a fine watch is the worst thing that could be done to it. A month's rest will instead cause the works slowly to readjust themselves, and at the end of that time after careful oiling the watch will go as cheerfully as ever."—Washington Star.

Big Game Birds.

The capercailzie, or "black game bird of Norway," is one of the largest species of game birds in the world, being very hardy and frequently attaining a weight exceeding fifteen pounds, but when the birds are young they are easy prey of hawks. The birds are what are known as "rangers" for the reason that while in quest of food they cover a wide expanse of territory. During periods of heavy snowfall they burrow into the snow and remain until the storm subsides before venturing out again. Their food in winter consists chiefly of birch buds, and in summer they catch mice and other small animals. They are rated as members of the grouse family and in habits are much like the partridge.—Forest and Stream.

Patti's First Audience.

Adelina Patti once gave the following account of her first audience: At six years of age I was a prima donna of the nursery. When I had been put to bed on my return home with my father and mother from the opera I used to make sure that they and the rest of the family were asleep, and then I would hop out from beneath the counterpane and fancy myself a great cantatrice, bowing before the plaudits of a huge audience. I admit my audience was a little apathetic, but, after all, that is not to be wondered at, for they were only a row of dolls which I had ranged on chairs before me.

In Doubt.

On a famous rifle range there was an important team match one day, and the men were firing in pairs, one for each team, side by side. The best shot on the home team was given to aiming so long that bets were made on whether or not he had gone to sleep at the firing point. Presently he withdrew his head from the stock of his rifle, lowered the barrel and asked his opponent in a low voice:

"Did I fire or did you?"—Forest and Stream.

Work and Fatigue.

What fatigues the motive power is getting to work. Once the mind is fascinated and the field of consciousness restricted to a single object the brain works without exhausting itself. Let us apply ourselves for a good time to whatever we do and have several hours of sustained labor. By quitting the task to dream, to smoke a cigarette or to watch a fly one becomes exhausted. —Paris Revue.

Might Have Made a Killing.

A physician took it into his head to go rabbit shooting. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he returned, tired out and empty handed, telling his wife that he hadn't killed a thing. Thereupon she remarked: "I told you so. If you had stayed at home and attended to your legitimate business you might have been more successful."—Chicago News.

Sweetly Said.

The influence of locality upon speech is illustrated by a reply received from a Vermont farmer and quoted in the Boston Herald. The old man had been questioned in regard to the value of an estate left by one of his neighbors. "Waal," said he, with great deliberation, "we cal'late he'll sugar off about $50,000."

No Wedding Bells For Him.

Weary Willie (reading "ad.")—Man wanted to chop wood, bring up coal, tend furnace, take care of garden, mind chickens and children. Frayed Fagin (groaning)—Gee! Dem matrimonial advertisements make me tired. —Judge.

Between friends frequent reproofs make the friendship distant. — Confucius.

Had Tetter for Thirty Years.

I have suffered with tetter for thirty years and have tried almost countless remedies with little, if any, relief. Three boxes of Chamberlain's Salve cured me. It was a torture. It breaks out a little sometimes, but nothing to what it used to be.—D. H. BEACH, Midland City, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Gibson & Timberman.

Promises to the Dying.

A clergyman, discussing unhappy love affairs, said:

"Many a love tragedy is caused by a husband's promise to a dying wife that he will not marry again. He thinks when he makes this promise that it will be easy to keep. Whether it is easy or hard to keep, it is a promise rarely if ever broken. Time and time again widowers have sought me out for advice on this subject. They are in love, but they promised their dead wives not to marry again. Shall they break or keep this promise? I can only advise them to do as their conscience dictates. At the same time I think it is selfish of dying wives to extract such promises from their broken hearted husbands. Such promises, by the way, are rarely extracted by dying husbands from broken hearted wives. But, then, when the dead husband's will is read it is usually found that if the widow marries again the money is all taken from her. So it comes to the same thing in the end, doesn't it?"—New York Press.

Famous Collection of Antlers.

Of the famous collections of antlers formed in the seventeenth century only two or three have escaped the general fate of confiagrations, sieges and pillage. One of these is in Moritzburg, the king of Saxony's historical hunting castle, near Dresden, while in the celebrated gun gallery in Dresden itself are to be seen in an unrivaled show the wonderfully inlaid arms used by the elector. The great banqueting hall of the castle of Moritzburg is one of the sights with which no doubt many a traveled reader has been charmed. It is a chamber of noble proportions, sixty-six feet long by thirty-four wide and thirty-eight feet high. On its otherwise unadorned white walls hang seventy-one pairs of magnificent antlers, which one may describe as the most famous of their kind in the world. Not a single one carries less than twenty-four tines or is less than 200 years old, while some are probably double that age.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so week from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other medicine for nine days without relief. I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Stewart, of the firm of Stewart & Bro., Greenville, Ala. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Gibson & Timberman.

Health in the Canal Zone.

The high wages paid makes it a mighty temptation to our young artisans to join the force of skilled workmen needed to construct the Panama Canal. Many are restrained however by the fear of fevers and malaria. It is the knowing ones—those who have used Electric Bitters, who go there without this fear, well knowing they are safe from malarious influence with Electric Bitters on hand. Cures blood poison too, billiousness, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c.

"SEVEN LEAN YEARS."

A sensation has been caused among Biblical students in London by the discovery, by Brugsch Bey, the Egyptologist, of a monumental inscription telling how the Nile failed to rise for seven years in succession about 1,700 years before the Christian era. A long and terrible famine was the result. B. C. 1700 is the date recognized as the beginning of the "seven lean years" described in the Book of Genesis, and theologians are interested in the confirmation which the discovery gives, in hard facts, to the Bible story. The account of the failure of the Nile and the continuous famine throughout the land was told in a number of extraordinary hieroglyphics, which Brugsch Bey, fortunately, has been able to decipher.

FINE HOME FOR MASONS.

New York Masons, long housed in an old-fashioned building at Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, are to have a new 18-story home, which is to cost $800,000. Technically it is to be an annex to the rear of the present structure, but it will be the real Masonic Hall of Manhattan. Plans for the edifice have been filed in the building department through Harry P. Knowles, architect for the Masonic fraternity of that State. The promise of the builders is that it will be ready for occupancy not later than January 1909.
